Reapportionment Fight In State Legislature!

Senate Committee Reports District Measures With No Recommendation

SACRAMENTO, April 10 .-Two reapportionment bills were reported out of the Senate committee today, without recommendation, throwing the fight of dividing legislative districts on the floor of the upper house of the Legislature.

Sample-Chamberlin-West bill calling for constitutional reapportionment was presented by Senator Harry Chamberlin, Los Angeles.

It provides for twenty assemlymen and ten senators to be alocated to Los Angeles county where the 1920 census showed population largely increased. The Jones-Harris-Boggs-Baker bill, which was introduced early this week, is similar in the country. county representation, both bills giving the three big counties, San Francisco, Alameda and Los An geles, nineteen senators and thir-vote of 45 to 28, Assemblyman S. C. Hartranft, leader of the group of farmers demanding taxation of publicly owned public utilities, towould be abandoned.

The Royal Order of Lion Tamers won their fight today against As-semblyman Henry Carter's pro-posal in the California legislature to license animal trainers.

For thirty minutes ripples of a week. laughter spread over the Assembly chamber while Carter, who hails from Los Angeles, was quizzed regarding his reasons for the measure, only to see it go down to defeat 34 ayes and 38

BARCELONA, Spain, April 10.

More than 100 persons were under treatment in Barcelona hospitals today for scalds and serious injuries suffered in the accident which claimed eighteen lives on the mountain trade yesterday. The train used for the mountain climb was passing through a lieved to have made the engine balk. The engine and three cars the rails, turned over and caught fire. The cars were destroyed by the flames.

Rescuers were hampered in their work by thousands of onlookers who gathered at the tunnel's mouth.

Firemen Put Out Blaze on Live Buffalo

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10.—One of the prize buf-falo bulls in Golden Gate park was nursing a big patch of sore hide today as the result of his fur having been set afire late yesterday, obably by a cigarette carelessly thrown into the paddock. A corps of firemen summoned to the scene put out the blaze, saving the animal's life and averting a stampede in the paddock.

QuickWedding Wins Business For Ugly Man

METCHUEN, N. J., April 10.—"Pat is so gosh-hanged homely I didn't think any girl would marry him-but he got hitched all right and now my restaurant is his."

This was the sorrowful declaration of "Bill" Echbaum, who wagered his restaurant against Pat Kreps' taxicab business that Pat couldn't get married within thirty-six hours. Pat won the bet by hurrying to New York and marrying Agatha Setelle Hollis. Echbaum's last lingering hope that Pat, softened by connubial bliss, might relent and decline to accept the restaurant, vanished today, as lawyers drew up the transfer

"I understand his bride don't think much of the bet, though," Bill said hopeful-ly. "Maybe she'll make him give me back the restaurant."

Echbaum said he would manage the restaurant for. its new owner.

family plot there. Mr. Brand was born May 12, 1859, in St. Louis, Mo. In 1879 he moved to Moberly, Mo., where he was engaged in the title insurance and trust business, which he had followed all his life. It was in December, 1886, that he came to California. The year following, his sister, Mrs. Nathaniel Dryden, and family and other relatives also came west.

Married in Texas

The marriage of Mr. Brand to Mary Louise Dean took place in 1894 in Galveston, Texas, where they made their home for four years. They then came to California, making their home on Angeleno Heights in Los Angeles. The flourishing little town of Glendale at the gateway to San Fernando valley, attracted Mr. Brand, who saw in it great promise for the future. He purchased property in Glendale, at one time owning, with the Huntington Land Improvement Co., almost all of Glendale on both sides of Brand boulevard north to Casa Verdugo and extending east to Louise street. Mr. Brand also saw the charm of the foothill district and purchased in parcels property which is now Miradero, known as

Deed to Park Is Presented Before Death

Death came today to L. C. Brand, but not until the crowning work of a career that brought to him the regard of his fellow-citizens and the title of "Father of Glendale," had been completed.

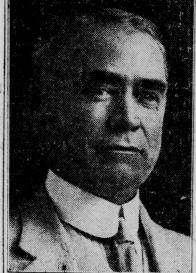

The certificate of title to Brand park, given to Glendale by L. C. Brand, was delivered to the City Council and accepted about noon yesterday. It marked the final act of the transaction that gave to this city one of the finest and most valuable parks in Southern California. Shortly after 3 o'clock this morning Mr. Brand was dead.

For weeks the Title Guaranty & Trust Co. has been working on the title, following the presentation of the park to the city. MAKE PUNISHMENT CERTAIN

The lower house of the Missouri Legislature has passed a bill providing the death penalty for robbery, with the alternative of not less than twenty years in prison. This was passed by a vote of 101 to 15, indicating a sentiment in its favor that will, in all probability, put it through the Senate and gain the governor's signature.

There has always been much discussion, pro and con, about capital punishment, but penologists agree that it is not so much the severity of punishment as the certainty of it that acts as a deterrent of crime. And that is where our courts are weak

Crime has increased with the leniency of the courts and the knowledge that most of the wrongdoers "get off easy." If the penalty for murder is hanging and nine-tenths of the murderers in the state escape the noose, the death penalty is not so effective in preventing future crime as is a penitentiary sentence actually inflicted.

Missouri is retrograding in passing such a law. No doubt the sentiment has come about as the result of the excessive increase of crime and the desire to check it. Many favor capital nunishment for murder, but few would sanction taking human life for robbery. It is too reminiscent of the dark ages, when men were thrown into jail for debt. But it is safe to say that Missouri, even if she passes this law, will not inflict the death penalty on many bandits, and the result will be another law held up to scorn.

There is an abundance of laws providing for the punishment of crime now. Enforce these laws; impress upon the potential criminal the certainty of punishment. This will make him pause.

A SWEET STATE

The Yankee origin of the president of the United States has brought his native state of Vermont into the limelight and we are learning things about the Green Mountain state we never knew before. Those who have never taken the Vermont maple sugar "crop" seriously will be surprised to learn of its extent. This year's product, it is said, will be about normal and 5,000,-.000 trees are to be tapped.

The gift of a sap bucket to Henry Ford was recently made the subject of considerable jesting, but Vermont maple sugar farmers (if that is what they are called) are not saps, and an industry that requires 5,000,000 sap buckets is not to be laughed at.

Vermont's pre-eminence in the production of maple sugar is not questioned, although the state has no monopoly of the industry, other New England states and Canada engaging in it. We were about to say that Vermont is the sweetest state in the union, but California beet sugar manufacturers and southern cane sugar refiners might take exception to the bestowal of the title on the Yankee state.

Henry James says that effort is the essential phe-will. Every reader under an unwise passion of action as if the passion were unwise? Certainly there is no physical difficulty. It is as easy physically to avoid a fight as to begin one, to pocket one's money or squander it on one's cupidities. The difficulty is mental; it is that of getting the idea of the wise action to stay before our mind at all. This is what James means when he says that effort of attention is the essential phenomenon of will. "When any strong emotional state whatever is upon us, the tendency is for no images but such as are congruous with it to come up. If others by chance offer themselves, they are instantly smothered and crowded out."

If we be joyous, we cannot think of those uncertainties and risks of failures which abound upon our path; if lugubrious, we travels, joys and loves; nor, if vengeful of our oppressors' community of nature with ourselves, James opines.

The cooling advice we get from others when the fever-fit is upon us is the most jarring and exasperating thing of life.

"Don't let me think of that! Don't speak of it to me!" This is the sudden cry of all those who in a passion perceive some so-bering considerations about to check them in mid-career.

The strong-willed man, however, is the man who hears the small, still voice unflinchingly, consents to its presence, clings to it, affirms it, and holds it fast, in spite of the host of mental images which rise in revolt against it and would expel it from his mind.

"Sustained in this way," James observes, "by a resolute effort of attention, the difficult object ere long begins to call up its own congeners and associates and ends by changing the man's conscious ness altogether. And with his consciousness, his action changes, for the new object, once stably in possession of the field of his thoughts, infallibly produces its own motor effects.

In all this one sees how the immediate point of application of the volitional effort lies exclusivey in the mental world. drama is a mental drama. whole difficulty is a mental difficulty, a difficulty with an object of our thought.

'Stop Unnecessary Expense And Save Taxes,' Tower Tells Voters

W. F. Tower, candidate for City Council, states that he has adopted as his campaign slogan, "The way to reduce taxes is to stop all unnecessary expenses." Mr. Tower is emphasizing in his campaign that the best possible conduct of Glendale public affairs at a reasonable cost is to reduce unneces-sary expenses. He further claims "common sense and common honesty are the great needs of public affairs.

Tower has resided in Glendale for more than nine years. He is a member of First Methodist church, where he is president of the men's Bible class. He is also a director of the Y. M. C. A., and treasurer of the Central Avenue Improvement association.

Ideal For Easter Wear

HEN you see here the lovely pastel shades-pinks and blues and greens-which fashion clever ensembles and adorable wraps; when you see the unusual touches Fashion has given her newest frocks, you will realize how ideal these latest modes are for Easter wear!

Ideal from point of beauty, for each garment is graceful in line and alluring in color. Ideal from point of becomingness, for styles are such today that each personality may find its true expression.

The Ideal Frock May Favor Printed Silk or Lustrous Satin

In either case, it will be soft and supple with a silhouette faintly molded and indulging in an audacious flare about knee-length. Perhaps it will be a circular fullness gathered to the front, perhaps a low placed apron of jaunty pleats, but always there's the flare in the ideal Easter Frock. In gay prints and satins, $16.75 and $25.00.

> A charming new arrival reveals a lace front, long waist line and flare skirt. Shades of poudre, rose and tan-$25.

> New tailored frocks of lustrous black satin are here. They show trimming of lace and net and feature long sleeves-$39.75.

Silken Wraps of glistening satin and fashionable ottoman measure smartness in every inch of their slim lengths, from their simple collars down to their fluffy borders of fur. Fluttering scarf ends, vivid colors or stunning black, heighten their chic and render them superb for Easter wear.

There's smartness, too, in Easter Wraps of wool. Whether of kasha in a glowing jewel tone or swagger homespun delicately pastel in tint, so charming are they that they'll be noparade and the Spring days to follow.

SPEECH DEFECTS in nervous speech defects—stuttering, stammering, cluttering and nervous hesitation—believe that the only method of cure is psychologic re-education. That consists of teaching the conscious control of the speech organs and control of the speech organs and giving new positive ideas of control, poise and confidence. The three predominating fears—obtained that the speech organs are considered to stammer," gives the following advice: It is important to teach breathing and body exercise to standard the speech organs are conventions.

stumble when they are first learning to walk; and it is only after become subconscious and are performed without difficulty. Don't forget that children imitate the sounds which they hear. That is the reason it is important for parents not to talk baby talk to children when they begin to learn to talk and, as far as possible, to have their associates use correct language and well-modulated voices. The child who is brought up under the circumstances where there are shrieking, peevish and angry voices most of the time, is very apt to have the same type of voice, and what is equally bad, the same type of disposition.

The first thing that has to be done is to find out the cause of the speech defect. Of course, if it is an organic one (one due to some malformations like harelip, feeble or very narrow upper lip, overshot jaw, narrow palate, cleft palate, sluggish palate, nasal obstructions, tongue-tie and very irregular teeth) that has to be remedied. If it is of nervous origin, then the stammerer must be taught carefully the right habit. It may take two months or

The nervous causes of speech defects are nearly always found the psychologic re-education of the patient these fears have to be searched out and talked over until the repression of them ceases. You can see from this the importance of guarding the child against all unnecessary fears such as the telling of gruesome ghost stories, the threatening of terrible and unnatural punishments, the shutting in dark closets and things of such nature.

It is highly important to exercise patience and tact with the child, not to call attention to the defect unnecessarily, not to punish for it and not to allow the other children to make fun. Try | Copyright, 1925, George Matthew to impress the child with the Adams.

Speaking on the inbreath is a frequent habit of a stammerer. Singing and humming and the memorizing of verses and speeches are very helpful.

The pitch of the voice is important. Nearly all people speak on too high a pitch and stammerers particularly speak on a higher tone than the ordinary untrained speaker. For every stammerer the golden rule is: "Speak in a low, firm tone as evenly as possible." Open the mouth freely and let the sound come out. First Lady of Land to Wear Gown From Her Present Stock on Easter

WASHINGTON, April 10 .- Atdge brand of economy solve the problem of your Easter finery if you are hard put to it for the wherewithal. Pick your attire for Sunday from the stock on hand. It will be perfectly proper; your criterion will be the first ady of the land.

Mrs. Coolidge is making no investment in Easter toggery this Her costume will be selected from her present wardrobe and its nature will depend en-tirely upon the weather. Not even a new hat has found its way to the White House.

The president's wife, however, has an extensive array from which to choose. Owing to the rigid and expensive fashion obligations imposed upon the mistress of the White House, Mrs. Coolidge has a wardrobe that is complete from A to Z. For instance, the prevailing style calls for the ensemble costume. She has three. Should it be rainy or cold, there are a half dozen or more cloth coats awaiting selec-The number of hats and slippers available would appall the average housewife. There are furs, neck pieces and chokers in

although softer.

The president likewise is abstaining from any gala haber-dashery—rumors of a new $65 suit to the contrary notwith-standing. His Easter garb at church—his only public appearance of the day--will be conventional cutaway, striped trousers and high silk hat, none of which are new.

The "new" suit which was so videly advertised was purchased hree months ago. The equally exploited hat received its gasoline bath four weeks ago.

Perhaps you have noticed it, but it is not unwise to remind the people of Glendale they are living a garden spot-a haven of happiness

There is very little grief and tragedy to be found in the Green Verdugo Hills, which smile down upon us at this season of the year and inspire the poets' souls. Serenity prevails, and yet we live in the very shadow of a great metropolis with its seething mass of people.

Few realize the transition that has taken place in the last decade. From a smiling tourist town, Los Angeles and its suburbs have bea metropolitan area exceeded only by Chicago and New York, although not quite so populous as Boston, Philadelphia and several other eastern centers.

have to live in one and two rooms of flat buildings and cheap hotels, or more fittingly designated as rooming houses. There is nothing ideal about hotel life, although many people remain cooped up in them for the greater part of their lives. The writer has had a season at Sacramento, where the Legislature is in session. Mere existence is it, pleasant as it may

A Man's Store Where Women Like to Trade

Meat Store, Los Feliz And Central, Now Owned By Former Partner

An important business transaction was consummated yesterday in southwest Glendale, when

Henry F. Zilla purchased the share of his partner, W. C. Dredge. The firm was known as the Dredge & Zilla Meat Market, corner of Los Feliz road and Central avenue, and now will do business as Henry F. Zilla, Quality Meats.

This market has been in its present location, at the corner of Central avenue and Los Feliz road, which is in the Safeway Market for nearly one year, and Mr. Zilla takes a very optimistic stand on the growth and development of this part of Glendale Business has grown to such an extent that Mr. Zilla expects to broaden the activities of the market in a very short time, and among the improvements will institute a delivery service. Mr Zilla has been a Glendale resident for a number of years and has operated other markets during this time in Glendale. Liberal Policy

Mr. Zilla as sole owner of the market states that the same liberal policy of high-grade quality meats will be dispensed, and courteous treatment to all customers will prevail.

Special preparations have been under way for some time, states Mr. Zilla, for all shoppers of Easter delicacies, and he says he has a fine selection for the house-

Greater San Fernando Club To Raise $150,000 For Publicity Purpose

The campaign to raise $150,000 to advertise the industrial and residential possibilities of the San Pernando valley is thoroughly organized and ready to launch during the week of May 25, represenbe held, said today.

The campaign will be financed by the $10,000 guarantee fund subscribed by 100 business men of the valley. I. H. Malin, man-ager of the San Fernando valley branch of the Bank of Italy, has een named chairman of the campaign rommittee. The adtive so-liciting organization of which he will have charge will consist of over 750 workers.

Plans for the drive call for a opular assessment on all of the 52,000 pieces of property in the valley in order to equalize the burden of expense connected with advertising the merits of the valley to the outside world.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 10 .- The to show to what extent they desire the co-operation of shippers commission but many shippers have charged that such conferences had proved effective only when rates were increased and not when they were decreased.

The directors of the Southern Pine association, members of which are large shippers of revenue freight, have just notified the Southeastern and Mississippi Valley carriers that, in their opinion, lumber rates are now disproportionately high, and that the carriers are burdening the industry unjustly with increases. They ask the railroads what relief can be had through confer-

Special Correspondent to The Glendale Evening News, Copyright, 1925. NEW YORK, April 10 .- "Ted" railroads of the southeast and Roosevelt is ready to sail Saturday on a new adventure. It is a Mississippi valley territory have far way to the governor's mansion just been given an opportunity at Albany by way of the cougar tralis of Turkestan, but young Col. Roosevelt is ready and in the fixing of rates. The carriers repeatedly have expressed a wish that shippers deal direct with them in rate disputes rather than through a federal agency such as the Interstate Commerce than through a step than through a federal agency such as the Interstate Commerce than the White House aboard a steamanxious to take the chance. The er and there was a somewhat grand and triumphant return home via the Nile and the courts of Europe. Col. Roosevelt sailed away in 1909, returned in 1910 and was again a candidate for the presidency in 1912. Needs Second Chance Already the politicians in New York are saying that young Col. Roosevelt who had the misfortune to face Al Smith at the polls last November, must have another chance to be governor of the state; another chance to move forward in the footsteps of his father. They feel that the hunting expedition will keep the colonel busy and more or less in is a danger mark to the politically inclined. When you have nothdo the wrong thing.

Returning victorious over the beasties and birdies of the far countries, young Col. Roosevelt once more will be placed in training for the governorship. In the fall of 1926 he will not have to encounter the Al Smith jugger-naut and may have the fling he has been looking for. It is figured that Al will be running for the Senate then against Senator James W. Wadsworth, who is sponsor for young T. R. in the state. Thus Col. Roosevelt and the man who had him nominated last year would appear on the same ticket and the same plat-

Col. Roosevelt is two years under forty as yet and his friends figure there is plenty of time for him to reach the White House and be the second son of a president to attain the chief magis-

Alice Longworth, Ted's sister, is not so sanguine of his success. She feels that the name of the father has been a handicap to the son rather than a help. She feels Ted has not had a chance to stand on his own. And that is why she would not let the name of Roosevelt be fastened upon her charming little daughter Paulina. Paulina has been born into a world which is offering much to women and she may in her day prove to be "the" politician of the younger generations of Roosevelt. Certainly Paulina should have a flair for politics, with a father like Nick and grandfather like

T. R., the president.

Many Want to Go
Young Ted has been overwhelmed with applications to join his hunting party, but the personnel was decided upon a long time ago and has not been enlarged. Everybody from preachers and missionaries to somebody's "stenog" appears to want

Col. Roosevelt is going far away from the trails of his father and he is seeking lighter game. The elder Roosevelt went in for rhinos and elephants and tigers Young T. R. is going after little-known birds and animals and is taking an "arsenal" of far lighter artillery than the heavy guns of the original "rough rider." The country where the new expedition is going was once described by

Marco Polo as the "top of the world." Kipling called it "the world's white-roof tree."

Wants Ovis Poli

The most desired animal on young T. R.'s list is the ovis poli, said to be the grandfather of the great grandfather of all the sheep of the world. The ovis poli has long horns and is a prize to the hunter on a par with a lion, though, of course, he is not a dangerous animal.

No matter what advice others may give him, young Col. Roosevelt still sticks to his penchant for doing the things his father did. He hopes eventually to attain the same success.

Elks to Give Easter Gifts To Children

Five hundred Easter baskets filled with brilliantly-colored Easter eggs hidden among green shavings, will be distributed to unfortunate children in the San Fernando, valley by Glendale Elks' members tomorrow. Stanley Frentz, chairman of the sick and relief committee, directed work of filling the 500 baskets today and will see that they find their way to homes and little children, who, save for the Elks, would not know the joys of the Eastertide. Many of the baskets will go to children in hospitals and institutions of the valley. Others will be distributed among persons confined to the tuberculosis camps at Sunland and Tu-

John S. Knox Urged By Wilber S. Bear

Editor The Evening News:-John S. Knox heads the councilmanic ticket that has been endorsed by the Horseshoe club, and he has the unanimous support of every member of the club. This is so because a careful investigation showed that Mr. Knox stood in the front rank with all classes of people in all parts of the city. Everyone commended his high moral character and his fearless championship of things which he thought were best for the City's welfare. No selfish purpose has ever guided his public acts. He has a long record of success in business life and those who have been associated with him most intimately are highest in their praise of his ability and of his sterling integrity.

Knox for two years in the improvement of Central avenue, and found him a faithful worker and loyal to the cause he represented. Mr. Knox has been a Glendale property owner for eighteen years and most of his interests are here. I am confident the people will make no mistake in following the iead of the Horseshoe club and in giving Mr. Knox a rousing majority at the polls.

Business Man Celebrates Anniversary

H. L. Miller, well-known Glendale business man, conducting an insurance, loans and real estate business at 109 South Brand boulevard, celebrated his seventy-fourth birthday today by having luncheon with his five daughters in Los Angeles. The luncheon was served at the home of Mrs. Myrtle Mc-Namara.

Other daughters present were: Mesdames Jennie J. Fitz, Dottie Wagstaff, Lizzie Johnson and Effie S. Rice. Mr. Miller was born April 10, 1851, in Marysville, Kentucky. "Kentucky was a pretty good place then," says Mr. Miller, "but Glendale, California, is the best place I know when one is seventy-four years young.'

·The Way to Beautiful Homes: After deciding to paint your home, you should seriously consider what kind of paint to use. It is not enough to merely order "paint." Neither should you be influenced by the first cost of the paint. So-called "cheap-paints" are positively most costly. They cover less surface than good paint; cost more to apply; last but sinting and in the end result in nothng but disappointment. The most econnical paint to buy is the one of such high quality that frequent repainting It is now possible for you to distinguish between good paint and that which will not give satisfaction. For years the Government and the Institute of Paint and Varnish Research at Washington, D. C. have been conducting exhaustive tests throughout the United States to determine the best paint materials. The formula for BASS-HUETER PURE PREPARED PAINT is the final result of these tests, particularly as to the paint that will best withstand Western climatie-conditions. It is made of carefully selected raw materials, scientifically proportioned, finely ground, and, as a guar-antee of quality, the formula is printed on the label.

If you want a paint that will cover well, protect your

Glendale Boys Report Fine Time On Outing Near Mount Lowe

A battle fought with snowballs in a snow fort on Barley Flats eleven miles in the mountains beyond Mount Lowe, was one of the features of the outing this week of forty-eight Boy Scouts and Scout leaders of Glendale. Harvey R. Cheesman, scout executive reports a fine trip.

From Glendale the party motored to Rubio canyon, where they took the trail leading to the incline railway. By rail they ascended the mountains to Alpine Tavern, where they took the gov-ernment trail of six miles through the snow to Opid's camp at the head of the west fork of the San Gabriel canyon, where they found a warm cabin, comfortable beds and provisions for cooking.

Campfire Program Here a campfire program was staged in the stone recreation hall. The next morning the hike of five miles to Barley Flats was taken. There are huge trees on the flats, which were heavily blanketed in snow. After the snow battle the boys built a snowman seven feet tall. Each boy brought home one of the pine cones. Wednesday night was also spent at Opid's camp, where another campfire pow-wow was held. Thursday morning the party hiked to Mount Lowe and Alpine Tavern, then through Eaton's canyon to the boulevard, where they were met by

In addition to Mr. Cheesman, leaders making the trip were William Hunter, chairman of Glendale district, and Scoutmasters Wallace of troop 8 and McLean of troop 15. Machines were furnished by Frank C. Ayars and Francis J. W. Henry. The trip was limited to Boy Scouts

Dear Sir-In reply to the questions propounded by you, I will answer as follows:

"The citizens of Glendale have recently heard much concerning the subject of taxation and I realize that this is an opportune time to give the voters my brief opinion as to how the taxes can really be lowered.

"FIRST-The foundation of this all-important question is not the method of taxation; that matter is fixed by the laws of the state, and the question as to whether said method is good, bad or indifferent does not enter into the problem. The solution depends entirely upon the men and women who are elected to the legislative bodies of our local government, to-wit, county,

"SECOND-If elected to the Council I pledge to keep uppermost in my mind the fact that every dollar expended by the city would mean an additional tax of one dollar which the taxpayers will be called upon to pay each year; hence, having promised to vote for lower taxes, I would necessarily scrutinize every item before voting for the expenditure and assure myself that the city will receive in return for every dollar expended one hundred cents in value of service, labor or material.

"THIRD-It is an undisputed fact that in the past few years several million dollars have been expended for public work, which was levied by special assessments by the City Council against your property and my property, and while I firmly believe in a constructive program of necessary public work I am most emphatically opposed to any further improvements unless requested by a majority of the property owners affected by the assessment for the proposed improvement. That the petition must be a bona fide request of the property owners, circulated by them and not by a paid representative of some paving or material concern.

"FOURTH-Realizing that the present laws of the state in relation to special assessments provide how the proceedings shall be had for assessments of public works, and that said proceedings are, as a rule, complicated and not understood by the average taxpayer, I am in favor of giving the taxpayer the benefit of all publicity concerning said proposed improvements that can be given in addition to the requirements of the law. "FIFTH-I am opposed to retaining in the service of the city any officer or employee who will either directly or indirectly use his position to further the interest of contractors of public work, and that if elected I promise to make a careful survey of this proposition, with a view to breaking up any so-called pools of contractors, all of which will aid greatly in the reduction of special assessments.

"SIXTH-I am opposed to the method of enforcing traffic laws for the purpose of securing revenue rather than for the safety of the public at large. I am in favor of a reasonable policy that will add to the dignity rather than ridicule the good name of our city.

fact that many of the voters of Glendale are engaged in business or are employed in the city of Los. Angeles, and that these voters have received very little consideration in the past. I promise that if elected, I will vote in favor of open meetings to be held in the evening in order to give every voter an

Praise for James Rhoades

Prominent Glendale Men Endorse Candidate For City Councilman

Editor The Evening News-May we express to the voters of Glendale through the columns of your valuable paper some reasons why Jim Rhoades should be elected one of the five members of the City Council. In stating these reasons, we have no objections to any one of the other candidates as they are all sterling citizens, but as there are five to be elected, we believe for the following reasons Mr. Rhoades should be one of the five:

First-He has demonstrated his business ability in handling public affairs during the three years he served Glendale as secretary of our Chamber of Commerce.

Second—He has had experience in municipal affairs, having served as mayor of Missoula, Montana, where he rendered mayor of that city from 1912 to 1914.

-He is a man that is not owned nor controlled by any individual company or corporation and is free to serve the vast interest of the whole people. Fourth-He is a fearless fighter for right and is a man who can and will represent his constituency under any and all circumstances. Fifth-He is an honest man and will deal honestly in all his dealings either public or private, and has placed before the people of Glendale letters of recommendation of his past life proving

In the face of these facts which we submit to the voters, we believe Mr. Rhoades is qualified for your consideration and support.

Sam Davis Stands For a Beautiful City Kept Clean

This Letter Speaks for Itself

Dear Mr. Davis:

I have never found the time before to write and personally thank you for the splendid fight you put up in the Glendale City Council against the bill boards wanting to get a foothold in our fair city. I went up to the City Hall that morning to register a protest against a nuisance, which years before, the Glendale Tuesday Afternoon Club women had made a house to house canvass, getting property owners to agree not to allow our city to be made unsightly by great glaring bill boards, staring the travelers in the face as they passed through, and for years we did not have bill boards on our vacant lots.

The way you handled the situation, against paid workers from the Bill Board Co., was worthy of us personally thanking you as an old timer and taxpayer of Glendale. I know also you have always been fair and just when anything affecting the best interests of the majority came up in the City Council. Knowing some of the inside of some of the public questions, which came up for consideration in the Glendale City Council, I know you, Mr. Davis, were foursquare and put up an honest fight.

Please pardon me for writing this lengthy letter. I think we should say the kind things while our friends are here to hear them. Thanking you again, I am,

Sincerely yours, Ella F. (Mrs. R. W.) Meeker.

A Prominent Citizen and Property Owner Endorses Knox

Editor Glendale Evening News:

John S. Knox heads the councilmanic ticket that has been endorsed by the Horseshoe club, and he has the unanimous support of every member of the club. This is so because a careful investigation showed that Mr. Knox stood in the front rank with all classes of people in all parts of the city. Everyone commended his high moral character and his fearless championship of things which he thought were best for the city's welfare. No selfish purpose has ever guided his public acts. He has a long record of success in business life and those who have been associated with him most intimately are highest in their praise of his ability and of his sterling integrity.

I have worked closely with Mr. Knox for two years in the improvement of Central avenue, and found him a faithful worker and loyal to the cause he represented.

Mr. Knox has been a Glendale property owner for 18 years and most of his interests are here.

I am confident the people will make no mistake in following the lead of the Horseshoe club and in giving Mr. Knox a rousing majority at the polls. WILBER S. BEAR.

SHEPHERD WRIT DENIED BY COURT

Petition For Habeas Corpus Rejected: Precedent Is Set By Jurists

SPRINGFIELD, III., April 10. The state supreme court today denied the petition for a writ of habeas corpus filed by attorneys for William D. Shepherd, Chicago, held on an indictment charging him with the "typhoid murder" of his ward, William Nelson Mc-Clintock.

In denying Shepherd's last chance for freedom on bond, the court set a precedent by issuing formal denial of the petition without filing the usual documents setting forth circumstances upon which it based its decision.

Attorneys Silent CHICAGO, April 10.—William D. Shepherd and his counsel today refused to comment on the new cry of murder hurled into the Mc-Clintock death probe by the formal report of coroner's chemists that Mrs. Mary McClintock, moth-er of William Nelson McClintock, for whose death Shepherd stands indicted for murder, had been killed by repeated administered potions of a mercury poison.

The defense stand on the mat-ter, Attorney William S. Stewart, Shepherd's attorney, declared, would not be voiced until the formal inquest, next week, after the chemists report on the analysis of the vital organs of Dr. Oscar Olsen also has been made. This, it is expected, will be made tomorrow or Monday. It is already known that mercury has been found in the exhumed body, but the quantitive tests have not been completed and until they are, it will be impossible to say what significance the reported find of the poison will have.

-Alexander Kulas, an 80-year-old Lothario, had to have police protection when he married 22-yearold Jadwiga Palec.

Alexander was entering into his fifth marriage and public opinion was opposed to a man of his age marrying so young a bride. There was a hostile demonstration two years ago when Alexander took his fourth bride, and to avoid another demonstration he arranged that the fifth marriage should be performed secretly. The news leaked out, however, and a crowd assembled in front of the church and hissed while the police held them from mobbing the octogen arian bridegroom.

PREY OF ILLNESS

Ruth Is Known As Greatest ; ports. Human Contradiction, Declares Walsh

By DAVIS J. WALSH For International News Service. NEW YORK, April 10. George H. Ruth, the poor honest ball player, lies ill on his cot in a local hospital today, not as the greatest slugger of time, but as one of the most notable contradictions the human race has known. His illness has been diagnosed as a "light at tack of the flu," yet what would be an ordinary illness for an or-dinary man has caused this individual, so strong that he can hit a ball almost farther than the eye can reach, to give up a series of exhibition drives throughout the surrounding country.

Nature has endowed Ruth with the torso of a piano mover and the firm wiry legs of an aesthetic dancer. It has given him a pair of arms of unusual strength, arms than can swing an overweight bat, the heaviest any player ever used, as fast as the ordinary man would wave a gymnasium wand. Yet nature, seemingly, has left its job undone; it has created a human mountain that can be blown over by a zephyr.

Ruth has been baseball's official patient ever since his symptems became a subject for national concern-tonsils removed, arm disabled by a carbuncle, attacks of influenza, etc

The present seizure is so light, according to attending physicians, that he may be able to play in the opening game on Tuesday. Show me the man who must be pushed on a stretcher through a Pullman door on Thursday, may be out on the ball field the following Tuesday and I'll show you the world's greatest contradiction. That is Ruth to the letter. He can hit a baseball somewhere between 500 and 600 feet, but a fever of 101 breaks him like the stalk of a hot house lily.

NEW YORK, April 10.—With the indoor track and field season of 1925 at an end and stellar performers working outdoors einder and turf a retrospective glance at what has happened in the closed months reveals a winer of record-breaking achievement unprecedented in American athletic annals.

Nurmi's thirty odd world's rec-ords for track and legitimate distances are not noted in this article if only for the reason that they are very well known. But undoubtedly he was the inspiration of much that the others have done In fact the breaking of records be gan on January 6 when Nurmi made his first American appearance in the Madison Square Garden. Loren Murchison crashed through at this meet with two new world's records—for the 50 yard dash and the 250 meter race. Upon the same evening Alan Helf-frich hung up a new world's rec-

Special Correspondent of The Glen-dale Evening News, Copyright, 1925. NEW YORK, April 10 .- Babe Ruth's collapse at Asheville, , reported in news dispatches from that city late Tuesday, comes at a most inopportune time for the New York Yankees. Even if Ruth is able to get into his uniform for the first game of the season next Tuesday with the Washington champions, it is extremely unlikely that he will be fully himself—and the Yanks hoped and needed to present their strongest line-up in first "crucial" series, which will determine to an extent who is o have the jump on the season. Ruth's illness is described as 'flu," and the symptoms undoubtedly are much like of the "flu" but it is likely that his attack is traceable in part to the rigors of his effort to get into playing trim. He has not reduced himself in weight strenuously as in other years but on the other hand the carrying of the extra ten pounds of weight he has been carrying through the training season must have been drain on him. It is certain that excess weight makes it all the harder to fight off an attack of this sort, as fever feeds upon vitality such as his. This is not the first time

Ruth has been assailed with the same unfavorable symptoms in undertaking to prepare himself for a ball season. At Hot Springs last year he was the victim of the same sort of attack, which left him weakened at the start of the season. Ruth's grit in attempting to play has been recognized by his fellow players, but perhaps he would have been better off had he laid off when he first began to feel indisposed three or four days ago. He has been hitting the ball on the trip home, and has Strong Semi-Pro Club To been a prominent factor in the play of his team. But he is not so sturdy on his feet that he can withstand the dampness and chill to which he has been subjected on the way north. And, important as these exhibition series are from a financial standpoint to a club, they are not as important as the first weeks of the regular scheduled season.

tional league this season if he is handled with skill,

When Rhem first appeared with the Cards at Stockton, he exhibited speed enough to put him in the 'bullet' nickname class right from the start. But he seemed utterly lacking in perthen that if Rhem could little control he would make a

Since then, Rickey has man-aged to imbue Rhem with some sense of direction. Rhem has been steadily improving with work, and the teams on the coast against which he was sent have been unable to defeat him.

Rhem pitched for Fort Smith in 1924 and won twenty-two games to fifteen lost. That is a mighty good record, minor or major. In addition, Rhem struck out 282 of the 1100 batters who faced him. Bases on balls, of course, do not count as times at bat, but in this instance they are not so conspicuous because a strikeout can only follow a time at bat. Therefore Rhem struck at bat. Therefore Rhem struck out .256 per cent of the men who faced him. The record is prodigious in these days when pitchers are not expected to do so much striking out.

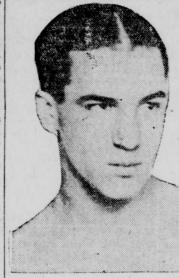

Halahan, a little pitcher picked up by Rickey from the Michigan-Ontario league, is another who gives promise. Courage oozes from every pore of his skin. He pitches with a natural and easy motion that will carry him a long way toward success. Halahan was not as successful as Rhem last year but he only pitched seventeen games, whereas Rhem proved himself a glut-

NEXT TUESDAY

A great many people have said to Booth: "Aren't you afraid of your candidacy for City Councilman, your vote being affected by your too straightforward utterances on various topics?" I say no, and I feel that any fair-minded voter will agree with me on my stand.

The general public is awakening to the fact that a halt has got to be called on all extravagant expenditures, unnecessary bonds, and improvements. Economy must be the watchword. Even our own President and our Governor are advocating a retrenchment policy.
